Which of your personal data do we process? For what purpose?

When we receive data from you, we process it only for the purposes for which we collect/have collected it.

Data processing for other purposes may be considered only if the required legal basis exists in accordance with Art. 6 Para. 4 GDPR. We shall observe any information obligations in accordance with Art. 13 para. 3 GDPR and Art. 14 para. 4 GDPR in any case.

What is the legal basis for data processing?

The legal basis for the processing of personal data is principally – insofar as there are no other specific legal regulations in this regard – Art. 6 GDPR. The following are particularly relevant in this case:

- Consent (Art. 6 para. 1 letter a GDPR)
- Data processing for the performance of contracts (Art. 6 para. 1 letter b GDPR)
- Data processing on the basis of legitimate interests (Art. 6 para. 1 letter f GDPR)

- Data processing for the purpose of complying with a legal obligation (Art. 6 para. 1 letter c GDPR)

If personal data is processed on the basis of your consent, you shall have the right to revoke your consent at any time with future effect.

When we process the data on the basis of weighing up interests, you as the data subject shall have the right to object to the processing of your personal data as specified in the provisions of Art. 21 GDPR.

How long is the data stored?

We process the data for as long as it is required for the purpose in question.

If there are existing statutory retention obligations – such as in the area of commercial or tax law – the affected personal data will be stored for the duration of the retention obligation. After the retention obligation has expired, we will check whether it is necessary to continue the processing. If there is no longer a need to do so, the data will be deleted.

To whom is this data disclosed?

Your personal data will be shared with third parties only if this is necessary to perform the contract with you, if the sharing of said data is permitted on the basis of weighing up legitimate interests within the meaning of Art. 6 para. 1 letter f GDPR, if we are legally obligated to share it on, or insofar as you have given your consent.

Where is the data processed?

We will process your personal data exclusively in data processing centers based in the Federal Republic of Germany.

Your rights as the “data subject”

You shall have the right to information on any personal data we process that relates to you.

If you submit a request for information that is not in writing, please understand if we ask you to provide proof that you are the person you claim to be.

You shall also have the right to rectification or erasure or to demand the imposition of restrictions on the processing, insofar as you are legally entitled to do so.

You shall also have the right to object to the processing within the scope of the statutory regulations. The same applies for the right to data portability.

In particular, you shall have a right to object in accordance with Art. 21 paras. 1 and 2 GDPR to the processing of your data in connection with direct advertising if this takes place on the basis of the weighing of interests.

Our data protection officer

According to the GDPR, we are under no obligation to appoint a data protection officer.
